Conference Chair

Melanie Leech CBE

Chief Executive
British Property Federation

Melanie joined the British Property Federation as Chief Executive in January 2015 having previously spent nine years as Director General of the Food and Drink Federation.

Melanie began her working life as a Police Constable in the Metropolitan Police Service and subsequently held a number of senior roles in the civil service. Her role is to champion a diverse, successful and sustainable UK real estate sector recognised for the positive economic and social benefits it delivers to communities across the country.

Melanie is a Trustee of the property industry charity LandAid and Chair-elect of the Council of the University of Essex. She was awarded a CBE in 2015 for services to the food and drink industry.

BPF President's Address

Jessica Hardman

CEO & Co-Founder, Aboria Capital
BPF President

Aboria Capital CEO and Co-Founder Jessica Hardman has over 20 years of experience in real estate investment. Jessica recently co-founded Aboria Capital with Downing Students, with the ambition to become a leading investment manager in the European Living sector market.

Prior to launching Aboria Capital, Jessica has enjoyed a successful, varied career with Deutsche Bank and DWS; first leading transaction teams culminating in €12bn of transactions, and subsequently running European fund management for international investors. Jessica was a pioneer and trusted portfolio manager for the wave of inward capital flows from Asian institutional clients from 2011. She built a multi-billion assets under management (AuM) business for Deutsche Bank, utilising her skills in business building, leadership and investment solutions.

In 2023 Jessica became the CEO of DWS UK, overseeing 500 staff and over €200bn AuM across global alternatives and passive public market strategies.

In 2024, Jessica was appointed President of the BPF and joined the board of INREV, the European non-listed real estate association.

Economic Keynote

Mehreen Khan

Economics Editor
The Times

Mehreen Khan is the Economics Editor for The Times of London and a former Europe correspondent for the Financial Times in Brussels. She has written extensively about the European Union, the political economy of the eurozone, populist politics, climate policy, taxation and economics.

Mehreen spent five years in Brussels from 2017-2022 breaking exclusive agenda-setting news on the EU's Brexit talks, budget negotiations, environmental regulation, pandemic policy response and foreign policy.

She authored the daily Brussels Briefing newsletter for the Financial Times and is a regular contributor to the BBC, Al Jazeera, EUScream podcast, In Our Times and Times Radio.

Her more recent coverage focuses on the challenges facing the global economy, from de-globalisation, international monetary policy and financial markets, in addition to economics and international diplomacy.

She has a BA in History and Politics and MPhil in European Politics from Oxford University. She began her journalism career at the Daily Telegraph and has written for Bloomberg, The Guardian and Sky News.

Previously, he was Head of Indirect Real Estate Investment and Global Managed Accounts at LaSalle Investment Management, where he was responsible for managing global portfolios of unlisted real estate funds for clients from Europe and Asia Pacific.

He has over 25 years of real estate experience in investment, corporate finance and research, and has advised investors, occupiers and venture capital companies on property portfolio strategy and on financial structuring, including PFI, senior and mezzanine debt and joint venture arrangements. His employers have included LaSalle Investment Management, Cushman & Wakefield and Henderson Investors.

Before coming into the world of real estate, Paul worked in marketing and market research. He originally studied Physiological Sciences at Lincoln College, Oxford, and has a MSc in Real Estate from City University Business School, London, now Cass Business School.

Gafar Fashola

Chair, BPF Futures Advisory Board

Gafar Fashola is a Project Manager at Trigon DM and currently serves as Chair of the British Property Federation's Futures Advisory Board. At Trigon, Gafar brings fresh perspectives to urban development and sustainability, contributing to pilot initiatives that transform the built environment.

A vocal advocate for the next generation of real estate professionals, he led the BPF Futures Advisory Board through impactful programs in 2022–23, fostering collaboration between junior leaders and industry mentors. Under his leadership, BPF Futures has amplified junior voices at major industry events and through key initiatives.

In March 2025, Gafar was selected for the prestigious MIPIM Challengers cohort and spoke at MIPIM on the role of material passports and sustainable construction - highlighting his commitment to innovation and ethical development.

Gafar combines hands-on development expertise, a passion for sustainability and diversity, and a dedication to mentoring emerging talent. His contributions are shaping the future of UK real estate - making him a valuable voice in today's industry.

BPF Futures & British Land

Thank you to British Land for supporting our pre-conference coaching workshop for BPF Futures members. Victoria Hills of PROMIND Coaching will lead the session for our network of property professionals with ten or fewer years' experience in the industry. If you would like to attend, please contact us at events@bpf.org.uk.

Ages and stages

Connecting homes and growth

Trowers & Hamlins have been running an initiative looking at how demand patterns, demographic trends and economic engines shape the future of our homes.

To meet the ambitious goal of delivering 1.5 million homes by the end of the current Parliament, the UK must not only drive economic growth but also address specific housing needs in response to changing demographics across the UK. The most important determinant of demand is the age profile of the UK population, the country is ageing, and our milestones are shifting later.

Panel 3: Delivering the Jobs & Homes of Tomorrow

Suzanne Benson

Head of Real Estate
Trowers & Hamlin

Suzanne is Trowers and Hamlin's national Head of Real Estate. Suzanne specialises in major projects (including strategic land, joint ventures and regeneration) and the delivery of residential and mixed use schemes.

Suzanne specialises in the development of market stimulation products and home ownership initiatives and advises Homes England in relation to their range of grant funded homeownership products - including shared ownership and Help to Buy. Suzanne's work in this area has also led her to develop a specialism in FCA and consumer credit work, and she co-authored the National Housing Federation Guide to Consumer Credit Authorisation for Registered Providers.

Suzanne also heads the Sales and Homeownership team who specialise in newbuild sales and leasehold management transactions for private developers, Registered Providers and Local Authorities.

Suzanne is the co-chair of the Pro-Manchester Property and Regeneration Committee and a board member of Future of Greater Manchester. She is also a Business Representative on the board of the Our Manchester Forum and on the editorial panel of ThinkHouse – an initiative to raise awareness on new research on housing issues.

Jim Perks CBE

Head of Future Workforce Strategy
BAE Systems

Jim joined BAE as Head of Future Workforce Strategy in November 2022, having completed a 39-year career in the Royal Navy. Joining the Royal Navy in 1984, he became a Submariner and rose through the ranks from Junior Rating to Commodore.

He was Commanding Officer of HMS Sceptre, "Teacher" of the Submarine Command Course "Perisher" and completed his career as Head of the Submarine Service.

Jim heads the BAE Social Impact team and is involved with Team Barrow.

He is President of the Submariners Association, patron of HMS OARDACIOUS, and member of the Barrow Poverty Truth Commission.

Stuart Rogers

Director of Project Management - North West
Muse

Stuart is Director of Project Management of Muse's North West team and has worked on some of the biggest programmes of place-changing regeneration in the region – Mayfield, Crescent Salford, ID Manchester and Airport City to name a few.

At Muse, he led the borough-wide regeneration of St Helens, Oldham, and Prestwich Village, and holds responsibility for all North West developments and partnerships.

His passion for sustainable development is embedded to every project he is involved in, and he enjoys working with complex and unviable sites, where there is an opportunity to solve problems and there is an opportunity for long term partnerships.

Stuart also sits on the NW Board of LandAid, a charity focused on ending youth homelessness in the UK and has developed a not for profit website to help people understand and change their personal behaviours towards sustainability called Climate Conscience.

Nicola Rigby

Head of Place Strategy
Avison Young

With over 22 years of experience and specialising in strategic planning and delivery advice, Nicola is national Head of Place Strategy at Avison Young.

She is based in the North West but has national remit focused on unlocking complex issues faced by their clients and delivering market informed and deliverable place-based strategy and regeneration advice to public and private sector clients, leading multi-disciplinary teams to shape project delivery.

Nicola has led a number of high profile projects in recent years including the Strangeways and Cambridge Strategic Regeneration Framework in Manchester, use strategy for Peel L&P at Liverpool Waters, the Inner Blackpool Masterplan Framework and business case which has unlocked £90m of funding for intervention, the Belfast City Centre Regeneration Framework, and on the affordable housing strategy for the Red Bank neighbourhood within the Victoria North Joint Venture for Far East Consortium.
